

New extensions

2010-01-01 23:15:31 by DonDomain

There are always new extensions coming out. Is this good or is this bad ? The question is: Don't we have enough already ?

Will .by for example really work well in the future for websites from Bavaria ? Also an other problem I've found there are several registrars where you need to pay over 100 Euro if you change the owner.

<http://www.dondomain.com/modules.php?name=News&file=article&sid=6>